economic, political and social factors, the performance of the Indian and global economy and significant developments in India's fiscal regime, volatility in the Indian and global securities market, performance of our competitors, the Indian Capital Markets, changes in the estimates of our performance or recommendations by financial analysts and announcements by us or others regarding contracts, acquisitions, strategic partnerships, joint ventures, or capital commitments. In addition, if the stock markets experience a loss of investor confidence, the trading price of our Equity Shares could decline for reasons unrelated to our business, financial condition or operating results. Following the Issue, we will be subject to a daily "circuit breaker" imposed by BSE, which does not allow transactions beyond specified increases or decreases in the price of the Equity Shares. This circuit breaker operates independently of the index-based, market-wide circuit breakers generally imposed by SEBI on Indian stock exchanges. The percentage limit on our circuit breakers will be set by the stock exchanges based on the historical volatility in the price and trading volume of the Equity Shares. The BSE may not inform us of the percentage limit of the circuit breaker in effect from time to time and may change it without our knowledge. This circuit breaker will limit the upward and downward movements in the price of the Equity Shares. INTRODUCTION

Printing Industry Overview

Printing is a process for reproducing text and image, typically with ink on paper using a printer press. It is often carried out as a large-scale industrial process, and is an essential part of publishing and transaction printing.

Over the years the printing industry has grown in all parts of the globe. The advent of TV and Internet has not affected the growth of and requirement for printing professionals. The industry has made giant strides in recent times in improving its machinery in terms of the scope technology and speed. Computers and electronics have invaded all the departments of printing, improving quality and speed of the jobs executed with consequent enhancement of costs enormously. In fact, the arrival of computers has complemented the printing business and has played a vital role in increasing its status as a clean profession.

Indian Printing Industry

The Indian Print Industry has undergone a revolutionary change in the last 15 years. In 1990, India initiated a process of reforms aimed at shedding protectionism and embracing liberalization of the economy.

Privatization was initiated with the aim of integrating the Indian economy with the world economy. This change opened the doors for the Indian Print Industry to modernize, by investing in the latest of technology and machinery. The average compound annual growth rate has been higher than 12% over the last 15 years. The progressive printers of today are equipped with the latest computer controlled printing machines and flow lines for binding, while state of the art digital technologies are being used in pre-press. Leading print companies have optimized the use of information technology in each and every area of their business. These printers are today equipped at par with the best print production facilities in the world.

Today, India is fast becoming one of the major print producer & manufacture of printed paper products for the world markets. The quality standards have improved dramatically and immense production capacities have been created. The current annual turnover of all the components in the Indian printing industry are more than ₹50,000 crores. Indian books, journals and printing jobs, etc. are being exported to over 120 countries of the world both developed and developing. The compounded annual growth rate of the Indian Printing Industry is estimated to be 12.2% for the period 2007-12. The objective is to achieve 60% growth by the year of 2014. The printing industry of India is highly fragmented. Newspapers and magazine publishing section have the large printers apart from a few in package, label and commercial printing. About 77% of the printing houses are family-owned. The country's printing market, currently valued approx at $12.1 billion, is projected to reach $20.9 billion by 2015.

Trend and Technology

Printing Industry Trends has been very significant over the years. This trend is actually the force that is determining the future of Printing Industry. The increasing use of Internet in the publishing world has brought a revolution in the Printing Industry. Remote Distribution of Data and Variable Data Printing has been possible by the use of Internet. The special ability of Internet of distributing large quantities of data to diverse locations bridged the gaps of Printing Industry. Earlier, almost all printing work was used to be done through press. But, in today's world of technological advancement, many printing work is done from customer's home printer.

Internet publications have opened a new horizon for printing industry. The Publishing Companies are realizing that it is better to distribute data through Internet in the first step and to print them in the second step. This is because if they carry out the traditional process of firstly printing and then distributing then it may generate much more costs. So, in this context, the biggest challenge faced by the companies which operate through Printing Press is of lowering costs.

Segment

The Main Segments of the Indian Printing includes Newspaper printing, Sheet fed offset printing, Flexographic & Gravure printing, Can Coatings printing, Screen Printing, Marking & Coding print, UV Coatings printing, etc.

Hubs for Printing Industry

Hubs for Printing Industry are a set of industry players who are growing systematically and regularly. They are usually the proprietors who carry their own business & who specifically do not belong to any specific region of India but are scattered all over the country. For ease there are clusters of printing Industry which are present in North: Amritsar, Delhi, Faridabad - West: Ahmedabad, Bombay, Gujarat - South: Bangalore, Coimbatore, Madras, Hyderabad.

In totality, today Indian Printing Industry is one of the greatest in the world and the country is counted among the top seven publishing nations. There has been an increased number of printers which are adopting newer modern technologies. The growth in these organizations indicates that recession is nothing but a changing trend towards adoption of new style of working. Today in this era the modern style of business is completely favoring consumers. The business owners ensure that they give optimum quality products at bare minimum price to the customers.

INTRODUCTION

Indian Economy Overview

India has become one of the most attractive destinations for investment owing to favourable government policies and reforms in the past few months. The approval of foreign direct investment (FDI) in several sectors have allowed investments to pour into the economy. According to the data provided by Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP), the cumulative amount of FDI inflows in the country in the period April 2000-September 2014 was US$ 345,073 million.

Growth in India is expected to rise to 5.6 per cent in 2014 and pick up further to 6.4 per cent in 2015 as both exports and investment will increase, according to the World Economic Outlook (WEO) report released by International Monetary Fund (IMF).

Sectors projected to do well in the coming years include automotive, technology, life sciences and consumer products. Engineering and research and development (ER&D) export revenue from India is expected to reach US$ 37-45 billion by 2020, from an estimated US$ 12.4 billion in FY14, according to Nasscom.

Furthermore, the US$ 1.2 trillion investment that the government has planned for the infrastructure sector in the 12th Five-Year Plan is set to help in further improving the export performance of Indian companies and the Indian growth story, which will consequently improve the overall Indian economy.

Market size

Indian markets grew by 19 per cent in the first half of FY15, the best performance by any market during this period, globally. The rise was primarily due to strong inflows from foreign institutional investors (FIIs). As of September 26, FIIs had invested ₹ 61,024 crore (US$ 9.86 billion) this financial year, while mutual funds had put in ₹ 15,298 crore (US$ 2.47 billion) during the same period, according to Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) data.

Foreign exchange (Forex) reserves increased by US$ 60.5 million to reach US$ 319 billion in the week ended August 29, 2014, according to data released by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI). Also, foreign currency assets rose by US$ 75 million to touch US$ 291.39 billion.

India has contributed 10.25 per cent of the overall 3.9 per cent rise in the global market capitalisation (market cap) this year, which has made it the second-highest contributor in the world. The valuation of Indian equities remains attractive, with a market cap-to-gross domestic product long-period average of 72 per cent.

Indian employees are expected to see a salary hike of 10.8 per cent in 2015, according to the Towers Watson 2014-15 Asia-Pacific Salary Budget Planning Report. The report indicated that due to increased economic growth, Indian employees at both ends of the hierarchy - top management and blue collar staff - are likely to see the highest comparative pay increase in 2015.

Key developments/investments

In the past few months, there have been quite a few investments in several sectors of the Indian economy. This has led to some major changes and developments in the country. Some of these major developments/investments are as follows:

- Venture capital (VC) investments in India have already breached the billion dollar mark this year. There were 189 early-stage deals in the first nine months of 2014 worth US$ 1.09 billion, according to Ernst & Young (EY).
- India's drugs and pharmaceuticals industry is expected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 14 per cent to reach a turnover of ₹ 2.91 trillion (US$ 47.05 billion) by 2018. This growth is aided by the rapidly growing domestic market and the newly emerging export opportunities.
- The output of eight core sector industries in India grew by 5.8 per cent in August 2014 as compared to 2.7 per cent in July 2014, on the back of good expansion in steel, coal, cement and electricity generation. The eight industries constitute 38 per cent of the Index of Industrial Production (IIP).
- The total approximate earnings of Indian Railways during the period April 1-September 30, 2014 were ₹ 73,403.67 crore (US$ 11.87 billion) compared to ₹ 65,525.85 crore (US$ 10.59 billion) during the same period last year, which is an increase of about 12.02 per cent.
- Private equity (PE) giant Surbana plans to invest around ₹ 300 crore (US$ 48.51 million) in the food park promoted by Keventer Group in Bengal, making it the biggest FDI in the food processing sector in India.
- Indian firms are expected to raise US$ 13-14 billion through global bonds in 2014 on the back of improved economic outlook and reforms to ease the raising of funds abroad, according to Moody's. The oil and gas, metals and mining, and telecommunications sector issued 67 per cent and 76 per cent of the foreign currency bonds from Indian non-financial companies in 2013 and 2014, respectively.

Government Initiatives

India has become a promising investment destination for foreign companies looking to do business here. Mr Narendra Modi, Prime Minister of India, has launched the 'Make in India' initiative with the aim to give the Indian economy global recognition. This initiative is expected to increase the purchasing power of the common man, which would further boost demand, and hence spur development, in addition to benefiting investors.

The steps taken by the government in recent times have shown positive results as India's gross domestic product (GDP) at factor cost at constant (2004-05) prices for Q1 of 2014-15 is estimated at ₹ 14.38 trillion (US$ 232.63 billion), as against ₹ 13.61 trillion (US$ 220.12 billion) in Q1 of 2013-14, registering a growth rate of 5.7 per cent.

Based on the recommendations of the Foreign Investment Promotion Board (FIPB), the Government of India has approved 14 proposals of FDI amounting to ₹ 1,528.38 crore (US$ 247.19 million) approximately. Out of the 14 approved proposals, six of them belonged to the pharmaceutical sector which was the highest number of approvals for any sector.

Road Ahead

Only India is anticipated to witness better growth momentum among the BRIC bloc whereas other member countries are expected to see stable growth momentum, according to Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD).

India could become the world's seventh biggest nation in terms of private wealth, with a 150 per cent increase in total, from US$ 2 trillion in 2013 to US$ 5 trillion in 2018, as per a recent study by the Boston Consulting Group (BCG).

Furthermore, the new 'Make in India' initiative is expected to be a vital component in India's quest for achieving wholesome economic development.

Printing Industry Overview

Printing is a process for reproducing text and image, typically with ink on paper using a printer press. It is often carried out as a large-scale industrial process, and is an essential part of publishing and transaction printing.

Over the years the printing industry has grown in all parts of the globe. The advent of TV and Internet has not affected the growth of and requirement for printing professionals. The industry has made giant strides in recent times in improving its machinery in terms of the scope technology and speed. Computers and electronics have invaded all the departments of printing, improving quality and speed of the jobs executed with consequent enhancement of costs enormously. In fact, the arrival of computers has complemented the printing business and has played a vital role in increasing its status as a clean profession.

Indian Printing Industry

The Indian Print Industry has undergone a revolutionary change in the last 15 years. In 1990, India initiated a process of reforms aimed at shedding protectionism and embracing liberalization of the economy. Privatization was initiated with the aim of integrating the Indian economy with the world economy. This change opened the doors for the Indian Print Industry to modernize, by investing in the latest of technology and machinery. The average compound annual growth rate has been higher than 12% over the last 15 years. The progressive printers of today are equipped with the latest computer controlled printing machines and flow lines for binding, while state of the art digital technologies are being used in pre-press. Leading print companies have optimized the use of information technology in each and every area of their business. These printers are today equipped at par with the best print production facilities in the world.

Today, India is fast becoming one of the major print producer & manufacture of printed paper products for the world markets. The quality standards have improved dramatically and immense production capacities have been created. The current annual turnover of all the components in the Indian printing industry are more than ₹50,000 crores. Indian books, journals and printing jobs, etc. are being exported to over 120 countries of the world both developed and developing. The compounded annual growth rate of the Indian Printing Industry is estimated to be 12.2% for the period 2007-12. The objective is to achieve 60% growth by the year of 2014. The printing industry of India is highly fragmented. Newspapers and magazine publishing section have the large printers apart from a few in package, label and commercial printing. About 77% of the printing houses are family-owned. The country's printing market, currently valued approx at $12.1 billion, is projected to reach $20.9 billion by 2015.

Trend and Technology

Printing Industry Trends has been very significant over the years. This trend is actually the force that is determining the future of Printing Industry. The increasing use of Internet in the publishing world has brought a revolution in the Printing Industry. Remote Distribution of Data and Variable Data Printing has been possible by the use of Internet. The special ability of Internet of distributing large quantities of data to diverse locations bridged the gaps of Printing Industry. Earlier, almost all printing work was used to be done through press. But, in today's world of technological advancement, many printing work is done from customer's home printer.

Internet publications have opened a new horizon for printing industry. The Publishing Companies are realizing that it is better to distribute data through Internet in the first step and to print them in the second step. This is because if they carry out the traditional process of firstly printing and then distributing then it may generate much more costs. So, in this context, the biggest challenge faced by the companies which operate through Printing Press is of lowering costs.

Segment

The Main Segments of the Indian Printing includes Newspaper printing, Sheet fed offset printing, Flexographic & Gravure printing, Can Coatings printing, Screen Printing, Marking & Coding print, UV Coatings printing, etc.

Hubs for Printing Industry

Hubs for Printing Industry are a set of industry players who are growing systematically and regularly. They are usually the proprietors who carry their own business & who specifically do not belong to any specific region of India but are scattered all over the country. For ease there are clusters of printing Industry which are present in North: Amritsar, Delhi, Faridabad - West: Ahmedabad, Bombay, Gujarat - South: Bangalore, Coimbatore, Madras, Hyderabad.

In totality, today Indian Printing Industry is one of the greatest in the world and the country is counted among the top seven publishing nations. There has been an increased number of printers which are adopting newer modern technologies. The growth in these organizations indicates that recession is nothing but a changing trend towards adoption of new style of working. Today in this era the modern style of business is completely favoring consumers. The business owners ensure that they give optimum quality products at bare minimum price to the customers.

Process Flow Chart

Brief Overview Of The Various Steps And Their Respective Contributions To The Production Process.

1. The Design Stage

In the Design Stage the following tasks are addressed by the designer.

- Overall look & feel of the piece
- Typography
- Graphics creation
- Page layout

The following tasks can be done by the designer or by the prepress department of the print shop.

- Color Trapping
- Create Printer Spreads
- Scan Halftones & Line Art

2. The Prepress Stage

In the Prepress Stage the artwork is taken from its delivered state (either reflective art or digital file) all the way to the press plates.

Here's how: First the artwork is transferred to negative film either by imaging a digital file through an image setter, or by shooting reflective artwork with a copy camera. Second, the pages are stripped together into a flat that reflects how the pages will be printed on the press sheet. And, third the flat is then burned onto a metal plate that will wrap around a press cylinder.

Each color will often have its own film and flat. Exceptions may be when very little color is used, and the colors used don't touch each other color at any point. In this case the color will simply be masked off when burning the first plate, and then revealed to burn the next.

The following procedures are performed by either the electronic prepress operator or the stripper:

- Image setting
- Shooting Camera Ready Art & Halftones
- Scanning Halftones & Line Art
- Color Trapping
- Imposition
- Film Stripping
- Plate Making

3. The Printing Stage

The Printing Stage covers the transfer of an image to paper. Offset lithography is based upon two main principles:

That water and grease do not mix.

The ink is offset from a plate (positive image) to a rubber blanket (negative image) and then to the substrate (as a positive once again).

When a printing plate is made, the printing image is rendered grease-receptive and water-repellent, while the non-printing areas are rendered water-receptive and ink-repellent. On the press, the plate is mounted onto the plate cylinder which, as it rotates, comes in contact with rollers wet with water (or dampening solution) and rollers wet with ink. The dampening solution wets the non-printing areas and prevents the ink from penetrating these areas. The ink wets the image areas, which are transferred to the intermediate blanket cylinder. The paper picks up the image as it passes between the blanket cylinder and the impression cylinder.

While this process involves primarily one machine, there are many areas of concern.

- To ensure high quality printing the printer must:
- Match the ink color specified
- Control dot gain
- Minimize paper movement
- Minimize image distortion or noise such as dust & hickies.
- Check that the pages back each other correctly.
- Evaluate halftone quality and attempt to hold the highlight & shadow detail.

4. The Bindery Stage

The Bindery Stage is when any trimming, folding, perforating, collating, stitching, or gluing is performed as required.

Ink works performs the trimming and folding in-house, and works closely with an outside bindery on the collating, stitching and gluing.

A typical job such as a 8.5 x 11 newsletter may include:

- A post press cut
- A half fold
- A double parallel fold

[A] Pre-Press Process

Pre-press is a printing industry term for the activities that occur, after a commercial printer receives an order and a corresponding graphics file from a client or graphic designer, but before any actual printing takes place.

This Process execute in 3 Stages, as mentioned below.

- 1. The First Stage: Pre-Flighting
- 2. The Second Stage: Creating a Proof
- 3. The Third Stage: Printing Plates (for Offset Presses)

1. The First Stage: Pre-Flighting

- Once the graphics file has been created by the designer, it undergoes the first pre-press stage - the Pre-flight. During the pre-flight, the file is checked to make sure it contains all the elements necessary for a successful print run.
- For example, the file is checked to make sure the images have the proper format and resolution, the fonts are all included, the PMS/CMYK colors are set up appropriately, all layout elements such as margins, crop marks and bleeds are set up correctly, etc.
- Also, depending on the software used to create the original graphics file, sometimes the entire file needs to be converted to a format better suited for commercial printing...like an Adobe PDF (Portable Document Format).
- Basically, the pre-flight stage is performed first to catch any issues with the file set-up that might prevent it from being print ready. Bear in mind that pre-flighting is not really intended to find and correct mistakes in grammar or spelling, so it is recommended that all general editing and proofreading be performed by the client and/or designer prior to the pre-flight stage.

2. The Second Stage: Creating a Proof

- Once the graphics file passes the pre-flight stage, it moves on to the second pre-press stage - creating a proof. A proof is a close representation of how the finished piece will appear when it is printed.
- On many projects, such as business cards or postcards, a proof is often created as a PDF. Since a PDF is an electronic file, it can be emailed to the client for approval...which greatly speeds up the proofing process.
- Also, if a print project involves finishing operations such as binding or folding - like that of a book or brochure - it is recommended that a physical proof be created. A physical proof will demonstrate how the piece will be constructed, where it will be folded, the order of the pages, etc.
- In addition to avoiding any unforeseen errors, the purpose of the proof stage is to ensure that the client and printer are in complete agreement on the desired outcome.

3. The Third Stage: Printing Plates (for Offset Presses)

- After the proof has been approved, the project is ready to be produced on a printing press. If the project is to be produced on a Digital printing press, the pre-press process is pretty much complete. This is because the graphics file can be electronically transferred directly to the Digital press for output without the need for printing plates.
- However, if the project is to be produced on an Offset press, it will need printing plates. In this case, the final stage of the pre-press process is the creation of printing plates. Printing plates are custom made for each job and provide the method for transferring the inked images to the proper place on the paper.
- Computer to plate (CTP) is an imaging technology used in modern printing processes. In this technology, an image created in a Desktop Publishing (DTP) application is output directly to a printing plate. This compares with the older technology, Computer to film (CTF), where the computer file is output onto a photographic film. This film is then used to make a printing plate, in a similar manner to a contact proof in darkroom photography.

[B] Printing Process

Printing is understood as those processes through which multiple reproductions of an image or text are made using a printing plate (mould) on the paper.

The largest consumer of paper is specifically the printed industry. The technique of printing is made up of three phases :

- Composition : These days, the original to be printed is received digitally. Before it is processed a print is made on a plotter to check that there are no errors. If the surface is correct, it can be sent directly to the plate using CTP technology (Computer to Plate), or to film, using CTF technology (Computer to Film). In the latter case, the film (called-photolith) is transferred to the plate using exposure to bright light.
- Inking : The ink is spread over the mould.
- Printing Run : The print run is done on printing machine (presses) which press the mould strongly against the paper leaving marks on surfaces to be printed.

The operations involved in these phases were traditionally carried out by hand, but these days they are completely mechanized.

If the goods move between states pursuant to a sale arrangement, then the taxability of such sale is determined by the CST. On the other hand, the taxability of a sale of movable goods within the jurisdiction of the State is determined as per the local sales tax/Value Added Tax legislation in place within such State.

Value Added Tax

Value Added tax (“VAT”) is a system of multi-point levies on each of the purchases in the supply chain with the facility of set-off input tax on sales whereby tax is paid at the stage of purchase of goods by a trader and on purchase of raw materials by a manufacturer. VAT is based on the value addition of goods, and the related VAT liability of the dealer is calculated by deducting input tax credit for tax collected on the sales during a particular period.

VAT is a consumption tax applicable to all commercial activities involving the production and distribution of goods and the provisions of services, and each State that has introduced VAT has its own VAT Act under which persons liable to pay VAT must register and obtain a registration number from the Sales Tax Officer of the respective State.

Income-tax Act, 1961

The Income-tax Act, 1961 (“IT Act”) is applicable to every Company, whether domestic or foreign whose income is taxable under the provisions of the IT Act or Rules made thereunder depending upon its “Residential Status” and “Type of Income” involved. Transfer of Property Act, 1882

The transfer of property, including immovable property, between living persons, as opposed to the transfer property by operation of law, is governed by the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 ("T.P. Act."). The T.P. Act establishes the general principles relating to the transfer of property, including among other things, identifying the categories of property that are capable of being transferred, the persons competent to transfer property, the validity of restrictions and conditions imposed on the transfer and the creation of contingent and vested interest in the property. Transfer of property is subject to stamping and registration under the specific statutes enacted for the purposes which have been dealt with hereinafter.

The T.P. Act recognizes, among others, the following forms in which an interest in an immovable property may be transferred:

- Sale: The transfer of ownership in property for a price, paid or promised to be paid.
- Mortgage: The transfer of an interest in property for the purpose of securing the payment of a loan, existing or future debt, or performance of an engagement which gives rise to a pecuniary liability. The T.P. Act recognises several forms of mortgages over a property.
- Charges: Transactions including the creation of security over property for payment of money to another which are not classifiable as a mortgage. Charges can be created either by operation of law, e.g. decree of the court attaching to specified immovable property, or by an act of the parties.
- Leases: The transfer of a right to enjoy property for consideration paid or rendered periodically or on specified occasions.
- Leave and License: The transfer of a right to do something upon immovable property without creating interest in the property.

Further, it may be noted that with regards to the transfer of any interest in a property, the transferor transfers such interest, including any incidents, in the property which he is capable of passing and under the law, he cannot transfer a better title than he himself possesses.

The Registration Act, 1908

The Registration Act, 1908 ("Registration Act") was passed to consolidate the enactments relating to the registration of documents. The main purpose for which the Registration Act was designed was to ensure information about all deals concerning land so that correct land records could be maintained. The Registration Act is used for proper recording of transactions relating to other immovable property also. The Registration Act provides for registration of other documents also, which can give these documents more authenticity. Registering authorities have been provided in all the districts for this purpose.

The Indian Stamp Act, 1899

Stamp duty in relation to certain specified categories of instruments as specified under Entry 91 of the list, is governed by the provisions of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899 (“Stamp Act”) which is enacted by the Central Government. All other instruments are required to be stamped, as per the rates prescribed by the respective State Governments. Stamp duty is required to be paid on all the documents that are registered and as stated above the percentage of stamp duty payable varies from one state to another. Certain states in India have enacted their own legislation in relation to stamp duty while the other states have adopted and amended the Stamp Act, as per the rates applicable in the state. On such instruments stamp duty is payable at the rates specified in Schedule I of the Stamp Act.

Instruments chargeable to duty under the Stamp Act which are not duly stamped are incapable of being admitted in court as evidence of the transaction contained therein. The Stamp Act also provides for impounding of instruments which are not sufficiently stamped or not stamped at all. Unstamped and deficiently stamped instruments can be impounded by the authority and validated by payment of penalty. The amount of penalty payable on such instruments may vary from state to state.

Gujarat Stamp Act, 1958

The Gujarat Stamp Act, 1958 (“Gujarat Stamp Act”) prescribes the different rates of duties on the instrument falling within the various descriptions set-out in Schedule I of the Gujarat Stamp Act., then the instrument is chargeable with the highest of the duty prescribed. In addition, the Gujarat Stamp Act also prescribes methodology for adjudication, refund of duties, grievance processes and prosecutions. The Collector is normally vested with the power of adjudication. If a document is not stamped or adequately stamped, it is likely to be impounded.

The Indian Contract Act, 1872

The Indian Contract Act, 1872 (“Contract Act”) codifies the way in which a contract may be entered into, executed, implementation of the provisions of a contract and effects of breach of a contract. A person is free to contract on any terms he chooses. The Contract Act consists of limiting factors subject to which contract may be entered into, executed and the breach enforced. It provides a framework of rules and regulations that govern formation and performance of contract. The contracting parties themselves decide the rights and duties of parties and terms of agreement.

The Specific Relief Act, 1963

The Specific Relief Act, 1963 (“Specific Relief Act”) is complementary to the provisions of the Contract Act and the Transfer of Property Act, as the Act applies both to movable property and immovable property. The Specific Relief Act applies in cases where the Court can order specific performance of a contract. Specific relief can be granted only for purpose of enforcing individual civil rights and not for the mere purpose of enforcing a civil law. ‘Specific performance’ means Court will order the party to perform his part of agreement, instead of imposing on him any monetary liability to pay damages to other party.

Competition Act, 2002

The Competition Act, 2002 (“Competition Act”) aims to prevent anti-competitive practices that cause or are likely to cause an appreciable adverse effect on competition in the relevant market in India. The Competition Act regulates anti-competitive agreements, abuse of dominant position and combinations. The Competition Commission of India (“Competition Commission”) which became operational from May 20, 2009 has been established under the Competition Act to deal with inquiries relating to anti-competitive agreements and abuse of dominant position and regulate combinations. The Competition Act also provides that the Competition Commission has the jurisdiction to inquire into and pass orders in relation to an anti-competitive agreement, abuse of dominant position or a combination, which even though entered into, arising or taking place outside India or signed between one or more non-Indian parties, but causes an appreciable adverse effect in the relevant market in India.

The Companies Act, 1956

The Companies Act, 1956 deals with laws relating to companies and certain other associations. It was enacted by the parliament in 1956. The Act primarily regulates the formation, financing, functioning and winding up of companies. The Companies Act, 1956 prescribes regulatory mechanism regarding all relevant aspects, including organizational, financial and managerial aspects of companies. It deals with issue, allotment and transfer of securities and various aspects relating to company management. It provides for standard of disclosure in public issues of capital, particularly in the fields of company management and projects, information about other listed companies under the same management, and management perception of risk factors. In the functioning of the corporate sector, although freedom of companies is important, protection of the investors and shareholders, on whose funds they flourish, is equally important. The Companies Act, 1956 plays the balancing role between these two competing factors, namely, management autonomy and investor protection.

The Companies Act, 2013

The Companies Act, 2013, has been introduced to replace the existing Companies Act, 1956 in a phased manner. The Ministry of Corporate Affairs has vide its notification dated September 12, 2013 has notified 98 Sections of the Companies Act, 2013 and the same are applicable from the date of the aforesaid notification. A further 183 Sections have been notified on March 26, 2014 and have become applicable from April 1, 2014. The Ministry of Corporate Affairs, has also issued rules complementary to the Companies Act, 2013 establishing the procedure to be followed by companies in order to comply with the substantive provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

The Trademarks Act, 1999

Under the Trademarks Act, 1999 (“Trademarks Act”), a trademark is a mark capable of being represented graphically and which is capable of distinguishing the goods or services of one person from those of others used in relation to goods and services to indicate a connection in the course of trade between the goods and some person having the right as proprietor to use the mark. A ‘mark’ may consist of a device, brand, heading, label, ticket, name signature, word, letter, numeral, shape of goods, packaging or combination of colors or any combination thereof. Section 18 of the Trademarks Act requires that any person claiming to be the proprietor of a trade mark used or proposed to be used by him, must apply for registration in writing to the registrar of trademarks. The trademark, once applied for and which is accepted by the Registrar of Trademarks (“the Registrar”), is to be advertised in the trademarks journal by the Registrar. Oppositions, if any, are invited and, after satisfactory adjudications of the same, a certificate of registration is issued by the Registrar. The right to use the mark can be exercised either by the registered proprietor or a registered user. The present term of registration of a trademark is 10 (ten) years, which may be renewed for similar periods on payment of a prescribed renewal fee.

The Copyright Act, 1957 (“Copyright Act”)

The Copyright Act, 1957 grants protection to the authors of literary, artistic, dramatic, musical, photographic, cinematographic or sound recording works from unauthorized uses. Various rights including ownership and economic rights are conferred on the author. These include the right to reproduce the work in any form, issue copies to the public, perform it, and offer for sale and hire. The penalty for general infringement of copyright is imprisonment of maximum 3 (three) years and a fine of up to Rs.2,00,000/-.

REGULATIONS REGARDING FOREIGN INVESTMENT

Foreign investment in companies in the printing industry is governed by the provisions of the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (“FEMA”) read with the applicable regulations. The Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (“DIPP”), Ministry of Commerce and Industry has issued ‘Circular 1 of 2014’ (the “FDI Circular”) which consolidates the policy framework on Foreign Direct Investment (“FDI”), with effect from April 17, 2014. The FDI Circular consolidates and subsumes all the press notes, press releases, and clarifications on FDI issued by DIPP till April 16, 2014. All the press notes, press releases, clarifications on FDI issued by DIPP till April 16, 2014 stand rescinded as on April 17, 2014.

Foreign investment is permitted (except in the prohibited sectors) in Indian companies either through the automatic route or the approval route, depending upon the sector in which foreign investment is sought to be made. Under the approval route, prior approval of the Government of India through FIPB is required. FDI for the items or activities that cannot be brought in under the automatic route may be brought in through the approval route. Where FDI is allowed on an automatic basis without the approval of the FIPB, the RBI would continue to be the primary agency for the purposes of monitoring and regulating foreign investment. In cases where FIPB approval is obtained, no approval of the RBI is required except with respect to fixing the issuance price, although a declaration in the prescribed form, detailing the foreign investment, must be filed with the RBI once the foreign investment is made in the Indian company. The RBI, in exercise of its power under the FEMA, has also notified the Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer or Issue of Security by a Person Resident outside India) Regulations, 2000 to prohibit, restrict or regulate, transfer by or issue security to a person resident outside India.

The Consolidated FDI Circular dated April 17, 2014 issued by the DIPP does not prescribe any cap on the foreign investments in the sector in which the Company operates. Therefore foreign investment up to 100% is permitted in the Company under the automatic route. No approvals of the FIPB or the RBI are required for such allotment of equity Shares under this Issue. The Company will be required to make certain filings with the RBI after the completion of the Issue.

RBI has also issued Master Circular on Foreign Investment in India dated July 01, 2014 which is valid till June 30, 2015. In terms of the Master Circular, an Indian company may issue fresh shares to persons resident outside India (who are eligible to make investments in India, for which eligibility criteria are as prescribed). Such fresh issue of shares shall be subject to inter-alia, the pricing guidelines prescribed under the Master Circular. As mentioned above, the Indian company making such fresh issue of shares would be subject to the reporting requirements, inter-alia with respect to consideration for issue of shares and also subject to making certain filings including filing of Form FC-GPR.

While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. Foreign investment is allowed up to 100 per cent under automatic route in our Company.

India's current Foreign Direct Investment ("FDI") Policy issued by the Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, GOI ("DIPP") by Circular 1 of 2014, with effect from April 17, 2014 ("Circular 1 of 2014"), consolidates and subsumes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DIPP. Currently, the foreign investment in our Company is limited to 24 per cent of the paid up equity share capital of our Company as we have not obtained the approvals of shareholders for a higher limit.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a Non-resident does not require prior approval of FIPB or RBI, subject to fulfillment of certain conditions as specified by DIPP / RBI, from time to time.
